Was Last Heard Of When She Came to Paducah.

That Was Ten Months Ago and She Was Accompanying Body of Aunt to This City.

KANSAS RELATIVES INQUIRE

Where is Fannie Dowling? If she is alive there is news for her at Osborne, Kan.

If she is dead C. J. Gillette, of that city, would like to get word. Fannie Dowling came to Paducah ten months ago with the body of her aunt, which was to be buried here. She came from Kansas City, but seemingly dropped out of the knowledge of her relatives in the west after that.

Mayor Yeiser has been solicited to inquire if any one by her name has been buried here. He turned the communication over to the police department, and Chief Collins instituted a search for the woman.

There is no such name as Fannie Dowling among the burial permits, nor in the city directory.

HALTS RAILROAD TIMBER PLOT

Scheme to Control Minnesota Shipments Exposed.

Minneapolis, Oct. 13.—At a stumpage sale held by the state auditor today Attorney General E. T. Young exposed an order made jointly by the Northern Pacific and the Minnesota and International railroads which would give them the control of the shipment of more than a hundred million feet of state timber north of Bemidji.

A few weeks ago the two railroads wrote the state railroad and warehouse commission that the companies were not common carriers of logs. The commission in reply informed the railroads issuing the order that they were common carriers for all kinds of freight, and not only that, but they could not limit their carriage of logs to mills on their lines. As a result the state timber board, which has charge of this stumpage sale, withdrew 6,000,000 feet which was to be placed on sale today.

VIADUCT IDEA.

Taken Up in Earnest By West Side Citizens.

The matter of petitioning the city to build a viaduct at the Tennessee street crossing of the Illinois Central has aroused a great deal of interest not only among the residents of the west end but in railroad circles, and there is talk of asking the road to assist in the improvement.

Going under the tracks is an impossibility on account of high water in the spring. The hollows all fill within a few feet of the top of the grade. The saving in time to vehicles, pedestrians and to the railroad would amount to thousands of dollars in a few years.

SHOOTING

AFFRAY BETWEEN FISHERMEN ON OHIO RIVER.

One Is Killed in House of Another, Which He Invaded—Slayer Gives Himself Up.

Calro, Ill., Oct. 13.—A shooting affray occurred about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at a houseboat lying a short distance above the Chicago mill in the Ohio river in which three fishermen were engaged, William Thomas and Edward Ross on the one side, and John Lewis on the other. Thomas and Lewis did the shooting and Ross, armed with a gun, threatened to shoot but did not. The affray occurred at the houseboat of Lewis, where his family lived and Thomas was killed in the house which, it seems he had invaded for the purpose of killing Lewis. After the shooting Lewis came down to the court house and surrendered himself to Circuit Clerk Davis, as the sheriff and Jailer Riggles were both out, having gone on a hunt for Lewis.

WIFE'S POODLE

SAT AT TABLE WITH THE RUSSIAN AMBASSADOR.

But He Could Not Breathe Air of the Same Room With American Blue Jackets.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 13.—According to passengers arriving here on the Doric, the American colony in Japan is up in arms against the representatives of the Russian government over the action of the Russian ambassador.

He was dining with his wife at the Nikko hotel, which is a famous Japanese resort near Tokio, when three American sailors entered, and he immediately demanded of the manager of the place that the sailors be ejected or he would leave. His wish was complied with.

The Russian ambassador was surrounded by American women, who with great spirit berated him in good strong Yankee language and several of the women refused to remain. The Japanese are said to have joined in the demonstration.

The Russian ambassador, whose name is Bashitoff, with his wife, who is of a Philadelphia family, was dining at the hotel and occupying a separate chair was the wife's pet poodle dog. The animal was given every attention and a maid was kept at hand to feed the animal with a spoon.

It is the daily average circulation of a newspaper that the shrewd advertiser investigates—"High Water" days don't count. The Sun's daily average last month was 3939.

BOATS COLLIDE ON HUDSON RIVER

One Dead and One Missing With Many Injured.

Saratoga and Adirondack Come Together and Former Sinks in Few Minutes.

ADIRONDACK DOES NOT PAUSE.

Tivoli, N. Y., Oct. 13.—One man is dead, one missing and a half a dozen passengers are injured as the result of a collision between the steamer Adirondack, of the Peoples Steamship company, and the Saratoga, of the Troy Steamship company, on the Hudson river this morning. The passengers were hurried aboard and taken to Tivoli. The chief engineer of the Saratoga was crushed to death when the collapse came. The fireman is missing. It is believed he is drowned. The boiler exploded and the Saratoga floated toward shore and sank with only her smokestack above the water. According to the captain of the Saratoga the Adirondack did not stop after the collision but left the passengers of the Saratoga to their fate. BOTH JUMPED

AND MRS. HILL FELL ON HER RIGHT SIDE BY THE ROAD.

It Was Thirty Six Hours Before She Recovered Sufficiently to Speak.

Mrs. T. L. Hill, of Sixth and Clay streets, has received a letter from her son, Dr. T. McK. Hill, the well known dentist, detailing the runaway in which he and his wife were thrown out a few days ago at Datto, Ark. Mrs. Hill was rendered unconscious and at the time the letter was written her recovery was problematic, although her husband believed she soon would be out of danger.

They were riding in a two-seated rig, and while the driver was watering his horses at a branch they began to run. The driver jumped out and fell, frightening the team. Dr. and Mrs. Hill, although having no means of guiding the horses, stayed in the rig until it was seen the horses would turn onto a road full of stumps. They both jumped and Mrs. Hill alighted on her feet, but the momentum threw her on her right side and she laid unconscious. It was 36 hours before she was able to speak. Dr. Hill sustained a sprained hip and severe cuts.

CURREY DISLIKED THE CONFINEMENT

So He Drew Himself In And Percolated Through Bars.

In His Barefoot He Is Running Away From Fine of Twenty-Five Dollars.

ESCAPE SEEMS MARVELOUS

Discarding his rubber boots to facilitate travel, Isalah Currey, colored, percolated through a small hole between the bars in the city lockup this morning at 10 o'clock and escaped. The gait he struck on gaining the open air would make a Pacific type locomotive go to the round house in shame, and when last seen Currey was still going.

Currey is employed by local livermen to wash buggies. He got boisterous on the streets and used rough language. He was fined this morning in police court $25 and "trimmings" and locked up. The lock is a heavy padlock and impossible to break by ordinary means. Currey looked at it long and wistfully. He remarked to women prisoners that it was h— to be locked up. No more attention was paid to the prisoner until several negro women ran up into the hall and imparted the startling information that Currey "de man wif de bare feet" had run off.

The officials got out in time to see Currey turn down South Sixth street. An examination showed that Currey had forced his body through a hole about eight inches wide and a foot high. It appears hardly large enough for the passage of an ordinary person's head.

BURNING SLACK

QUENCHED BY FLOODS FROM SWITCH ENGINES.

Sparks Ignited Pile and Whole Battery of Locomotives Played Water on Embers.

By excellent work on the part of several switch engine crews a serious fire at the coal chute in the Illinois Central south yards was averted yesterday afternoon. A spark from an engine ignited the slack at the north end of the chute. The fire had gained some little headway before engines were summoned. With the fire fighting apparatus installed several weeks ago on each switch engine in the yards the crews poured hundreds of gallons of water onto the burning coal and extinguished the fire before the timbers had become well ignited. The damage is light.

STANDARD OIL

LOSES ON EVERY POINT IN CASE IN OHIO COURT.

Prosecution's Careful Preparations Telling in Disputes Over Competency.

Findlay, O., Oct. 13.—Triumphs for the prosecution followed each other today in quick succession in the case of the state against the Standard Oil company, the states attorneys winning every contention where the competency of evidence was the question.

One of the most significant features was the admission by Frederick T. Cuthbert, of Lima, president of the Manhattan Oil company, that his company was paying 90 cents a barrel for oil in the North Lima field where the Standard has competition, and selling this oil to the Trainer Oil company, another of the alleged Standard subsidiary concerns, at a net loss of five cents a barrel.

MAD DOG

BIT DAN WILLIS ON THE LEG YESTERDAY MORNING.

He Attempted to Protect His Own Dog When He Was Attacked—Both Dogs Ran.

Although the mad dog that terrorized the south side two nights ago has not yet been captured so far as learned, stories of encounters with it continue to come in, and Dan Willis, of 1033 North Twelfth street, the popular agent for the Singer Sewing machine, had an experience with the rabid animal that still gives him chills.

He was going out the Blandville road yesterday morning, when he encountered the mad dog. It sprang at his dog and he interfered. Then the mad dog jumped at Mr. Willis' throat and he knocked it away, whereupon it stuck its fangs in the calf of his leg and returned to the attack on his dog.

While Mr. Willis was searching for a missile his own dog ran for home and the other disappeared down the road.

PLEASANT MEMORY OF HORSE SHOW

Good Words For Exhibition Heard Everywhere.

Scott Isbell Liked it and Says So, While Nashville Does Not Compare.

ATTENDANCE WAS EXCELLENT

Harry Johnston, treasurer for the Paducah Driving association at the recent horse show, has completed his report to the association on attendance. Notwithstanding weather, the total attendance for the three nights was 3,850. All accounts have not been checked but from indications the horse show will just break even about.

In an interview concerning the horse show James M. Lang said: "Probably the horse show was more appreciated by me than by any other exhibitor at the recent meeting."

of the show, presented my horse "Miss Mattie Fowler" on the eve Rebel Dare with a pair of handsome sterling silver rosettes bearing initials in raised letters thereon in honor of his handsome mother, named by me for Miss Mattie, when I brought her to Paducah some years since.

"This intensified my desire to have Rebel Dare bear those rosettes to victory and he did so splendidly, being awarded first in every ring, and twice defeating the only horse which turned down his mother."

"I was the only exhibitor, except Hume Ogilvie, who bred, reared, trained and exhibited my own horses, and I captured five blue ribbons on the youngsters in addition to first on Anna Lee for the best saddle bred mare and secured the cup and blue ribbon riding Maggie McClellan."

"I appreciate the opportunity given me to exhibit my stock and am genuinely grateful for the many winnings especially those made by Rebel Dare."

A Comparison.

"It is only by comparison that we learn to appreciate things as we should," said Mr. Fendol Burnett today, prefacing some comments on the horse show, which Nashville has been holding this week.

"I was at the Nashville horse show this week, which is being held in connection with the Tennessee state fair, and which one would think would attract the best of entries, but I did not see a ring with the exception of the double harness event, that could in any measure compare with the rings at Paducah's show last week. The light harness events, and the saddle and other events were not in the same class at all."

President Robert B. Phillips, of the horse show association, received a Danville paper today which contained an interview with Mr. Scott Isbell, who officiated as one of the judges at the show last week, in which he gives the show a good send-off, and letters received from visiting horsemen praise the show highly.
